

Directions, Parking, and Entrance to the BASH

For those of you who are not familiar with the Huntington Beach Central Library, the following will give you a better understanding of how to get to the library, where to park, and the entrance into the theater area where the BASH and Book Faire will be held.

The image below, courtesy of Google Maps, is a top down view of the library.

The library's address is 7111 Talbert Ave, Huntington Beach, CA 92648. If you use GPS in your car or on your phone, just enter the address and it will get you to the library. If you don't use any form of GPS then follow these direction:

If you are coming south, get on either Goldenwest Blvd. or Beach Blvd. If you are on Goldenwest, come to Talbert Avenue and turn left. You will drive directly into the library area.

If you are on Beach Blvd., turn right on Talbert Ave. Drive approximately ½ mile and you will be taken into the library area.

Please note that there are 2 entrances into the library. The main entrance and the theater entrance. Do NOT use the main entrance because it does not open up until 9:00 AM. The theater entrance will open at 8:00 AM for BASH attendees.

The locations of the 2 entrances is noted on the image to the right.

There is plenty of free parking and you can park anywhere you would like. The easiest parking for entry into the BASH is shown on the image above.

Remember to come early to get the best selections at the Book Faire.
